TWO AUGUST WEDDINGS

Edward S. Norton and Mary C. Gross Married This Morning, and J. A. Wilkins and Julia Spalenka, Tuesday.

NORTON-GROSS.

The marriage of Edward S. Norton and Miss Mary C. Gross took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norton, 941 Clark street, at 11 o'clock this morning. G. L. Park, justice of the peace, pronounced the solemn words. The young couple were attended by Miss Helen Specht as bridesmaid and Clarence Kellar, a nephew of the groom, as best man. A five course wedding dinner was served at high noon under the direction of Mrs. P. J. Kellar, sister of Mr. Norton. The bride wore a handsome gown of blue taffeta silk, trimmed with applique and ruchings. Miss Specht's dress was of white organdie.

Ed. is the youngest son of W. H. Norton and wife. He is a Kentuckian by birth but came here with his parents when a small boy and has since been a resident of our city. For some time he has been employed as clerk at The Spot.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Richard Gross, one of Portage county's most respected residents. She is a native of Stockton township but has lived in this city for several years. Three years ago the young lady opened a grocery and confectionery store in the building at 519 Strong's avenue and has been very successful. The business will be continued at its present location, the rear part being occupied as living rooms by the couple. Congratulations and well wishes are extended Mr. and Mrs. Norton.

WILKINS-SPALENKA.

John A. Wilkins, whose home is at Big Bend, Waukesha county, and Miss Julia Spalenka of this city were married at St. Peter's church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. L. J. Pescinski being assisted in the impressive ceremonies by Rev. Wm. Braun of Manitowoc county. The bride was given away at the altar by her cousin, James Ruzicka of Chicago. Miss Louise Spalenka acted as maid of honor, Miss Clara Drewes of Fond du Lac was bridesmaid and Frank Spalenka performed the duties of best man.

The bridal gown was a pretty creation of lace over white silk. That of the maid of honor was white airline over blue silk, and Miss Drewes wore pink French organdie trimmed with cream lace. Paul Drewes of Fond du Lac and Philip Knipple of Auburndale served as ushers.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Spalenka, 600 Michigan avenue, to which a number of relatives and several intimate friends were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins left here on the 2:40 p. m. train for a visit in Waukesha county and at Milwaukee and Chicago. They will be "at home" after Sept. 1st at Rudolph, where the groom is employed as clerk in A. J. Kujawa's general store. He has filled this position for nearly two years.

His bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Spalenka and has been a resident of our city all her life. She is a very excellent young lady, bright and capable, and has the well wishes of many friends for a long life of happiness.

Among the relatives present at the wedding from a distance were Mrs. Geo. Wilkins and son of Big Bend, A. J. Kujawa and family of Rudolph, Mrs. Bernard Drewes of Fond du Lac.

C. Weinfeld Leads State.

Chas. Weinfeld has been notified by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee that this district is the leader in the state of Wisconsin for the year ending June 30th. During the first six months of the present year, Mr. Weinfeld has personally written $35,000. His district will pay for one million of new insurance this year.—Wausau Record-Herald.

Stevens Point is in the above territory.

Going to Ladysmith.

Prof. O. E. Rice, who has been connected with the Stevens Point Business College for the past year, and has been manager of the same for several months, will leave in a day or two for Ladysmith, where he will erect a new home and next spring will engage in the furniture business, and later put in a stock of hardware. Prof. Showers, proprietor of the college here, was very desirous of retaining the services of Prof. Rice, but the latter declined a re-appointment for the purpose of engaging in business. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rice have made many friends during the short time they have been residents of Stevens Point, and all join in wishing them deserved success in their new home in Rusk county.

Kicked by a Colt.

The animal kingdom doesn't seem to have a warm spot for Peter Trierweiler, Sr., one of the former well known farmers of the town of Sharon. A few years ago he was attacked by a vicious bull on his farm, which ripped the flesh across his abdomen and would have caused his death but for the timely arrival of his daughter. A few days ago while upon the farm of his daughter in the town of Stockton, Mr. Trierweiler was kicked by a playful colt, blacking and closing one of his eyes and bruising his face so badly that he bore a strong resemblance to a defeated prize fighter. Mr. Trierweiler takes these little experiences philosophically and says he is pleased it was not worse. He will leave shortly for an extended visit with his daughters, Mrs. Nick and Miss Mary Trierweiler, at Minneapolis.

Will Play Wausau Foresters.

A strong nine representing the Foresters and Knights of Columbus have arranged a game of base ball for next Sunday afternoon, when they will play the Forester team from Wausau. The contest will take place at the fair grounds, commencing at 3 o'clock, and will be well worth the admission fee of 25 cents. No charge will be made for seats in the grand stand.

Knop and Lee will be battery for the locals and they will be ably assisted by a number of Stevens Point's crack players. The Wausau club is said to be equally strong.

Portage County Fair.

The 39th annual fair of the Portage County Agricultural Society will be held at Amherst Sept. 1st to 4th, and from present indications it will be larger and better than for many years. The secretary, E. P. Tobie, is now in correspondence with men of national reputation for addresses on the grounds the afternoons of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On these days there will also be racing. Wednesday being designated as farmers' day, when purses of $60 will be offered. Thursday afternoon, Sept. 3d, there will be three contests, a gentleman's road race, 2:25 trot or pace and a running race. Friday's program includes a free-for-all trot or pace, purse $150, and a 2:40 trot or pace. P. N. Peterson is superintendent of the speed department, which is a guarantee of good races.

While the management will make every effort to provide special attractions, yet the primary object of the fair is educative, and all who attend may be assured of seeing first-class exhibits in the live stock, agricultural, art, machinery and other departments. Bear in mind the dates, Sept. 1st to 4th, and arrange to spend one or more of these days at Amherst.

TO PATRONS OF CITY SCHOOLS

Supt. John N. Davis Has Important Communication For Parents and Guardians.

The city schools will open August 31st. All parents are urged to send their children on the first day of school. The first day is the most important day of school. The child who enters school a week behind is handicapped in his work. Especially is this true in the primary grades.

The students who are entering the High school for the first time should consider carefully the course which they wish to pursue. This is very important. The courses should be chosen with regard to what the one who takes the course intends to follow. The choice of a course not suited to the child's capacity is one of the worst of mistakes.

The office of the superintendent will open on Saturday, August 29th, for consultation with parents in regard to the courses their children should pursue.

John N. Davis,
Supt. of Schools.

Two Story Addition.

The work of building the two story addition to the W. H. Coyle residence, on Clark street, formerly the property of Mrs. Ellen Dyer, has been commenced, the mason work being done by Gilburt Nordbye and the carpenter work by S. W. Carley. A hot water heating plant will be placed in the basement, and on the first floor the addition there will be a bedroom, bath room and closets, while on the second floor there will also be a bedroom and closets.

TEACHER AT MINNEAPOLIS

Miss Genevieve McDill Accepts Responsible Position in High School at Flour City—Will Teach English.

Miss Genevieve McDill, for several years the able and efficient principal of the Stevens Point High school, but who declined re-appointment for next year, has accepted the position of teacher of English and will perform the duties of room principal in the East High school at Minneapolis. This school is located on University avenue and only a short distance from the Minnesota state university. Thirty-six teachers are employed in the building.

Miss McDill had practically completed arrangements to attend Columbia College, New York city, during the coming year, and strive for the master's degree, but she later decided to accept the tempting offer from Minneapolis, which carries with it an annual salary of $1,100. The fall term begins Sept. 8th.

Death Due to Hemorrhage.

On Friday afternoon, Aug. 14th, while passing in front of Dr. O. T. Hougen's residence property, Geo. Peterich fell three times on the cement sidewalk, his head striking the walk, causing a hemorrhage of the brain from which he died at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of his uncle, B. R. Altenburg, in this city.

George Peterich was born in Stevens Point, April 13, 1860, and was therefore 48 years, 4 months and 3 days old when he died. He leaves a mother and three sisters, Mrs. W. M. Schrader, of Tomahawk; Mrs. S. E. Karner and Mrs. Clara Bremmer, of Stevens Point, to mourn his death.

The funeral service took place this morning at 11 o'clock at the Catholic church, Father Reding officiating. The remains were laid at rest along side of his wife, who preceded him several years ago, in Forest Hill cemetery.—Grand Rapids Reporter.

The deceased was well known in this city, where he spent most of his life, and friends will be surprised to learn of his sudden death.

The President's Appreciation.

Mrs. G. B. Clark, vice president of Old White School Association, has received a letter from Henry L. Green, Chicago, president of the association, and among other things he says: "I shall not attempt to tell you now how I enjoyed every hour of last week and how I appreciate all the nice things that were said and done for the association and its officers. The 'Home Coming' exceeded my fondest expectations and the entertainment provided would do credit to a city many times the size of Stevens Point. The details seemed to be very carefully worked out and the results charmed everybody, and more especially the guests from a distance. The parade, while smaller, equalled in artistic beauty the celebrated floral parade that is annually given in Los Angeles and Pasadena. I wish you would take occasion to express to the 'Home Coming' committee my appreciation of their work and its results."

Started For Portland.

Mrs. F. L. Dille left here Monday night for St. Paul and will be joined later in the week by her husband, when both will proceed to their future home at Portland, Oregon. Mr. Dille expects to engage in the insurance business there. The well wishes of all who know "Jack" and his wife will accompany them to the west.

INCREASE IN ACREAGE

Reports of Assessors Show Large Increase in Potatoes, Corn and Rye—Decrease in Wheat and Oats.

County Clerk Bourn has received annual statistics from town assessors showing the number of acres of various farm products grown or growing in their respective districts this year. The total acreage of potatoes in the county this year is 26,857, which is an increase of 2,451 over last year, while in wheat there were only 293 acres sown, or 304 less than in 1907. The acreage of oats, 35,077, also shows a decrease of 318, but in corn there is an increase of 735 acres, the total this year being 16,215. In the rye acreage, which is 16,507 this year, there is an increase of 1,493 acres. There are 584 acres of barley and 111 acres of apple orchards, which is an increase in both crops. Stockton leads in the number of acres of potatoes and oats, with Almond second in potatoes and Amherst second in oats. Almond leads in corn and Sharon in rye, with Plover second in rye.

The number of milch cows in the county is 16,633, an increase of 139 over last year, in which Amherst leads with 1,754, while Carson has 1,441, Sharon 1,354, Stockton 1,340, and Buena Vista, Eau Pleine, Lanark and New Hope over 1,000 each. There are 8,275 horses in the county, 3,975 sheep, 5,914 swine, and 33,111 acres of tame grass.

Reached Milwaukee Monday.

The five Stevens Point boys, Judd Bigelow, Alfred Baker, Roy Cashin, Carl Moeschler and George Glennon, who left here on Tuesday morning of last week on a trip to Milwaukee, reached there on Monday, two or three days sooner than they expected. Letters and cards received each day all brought the same intelligence, that the trip was being enjoyed, and they arrived in Milwaukee safe and sound, all feeling fine. The weather was delightful for walking, cool and refreshing most of the time, and the boys met a number of friends and formed many pleasant acquaintances along the route.

Some of all of them will visit Chicago before returning home by rail.

Viewing the Sites.

Maj. Fred Brackett, of the national treasury department, Washington, D. C., spent today in the city looking over the various sites that have been offered to the government for the purpose of erecting the new postoffice building thereon. Mr. Brackett made a personal inspection of each site, secured the assessed valuation thereof, and will later make his recommendations to the powers at Washington. From here Mr. Brackett goes to Merrill and Marinette on a like mission.

Could Go Some on Foot.

Jas. R. Luce, of Everett, Wash., and daughter, Mrs. Lillian Holt, of Madison, left for Oshkosh, Sunday afternoon, where they will attend the home coming this week and then proceed to the home of the latter, where Mr. Luce will make a short visit before departing for the west. Mr. Luce will be remembered by pioneers as one of the fastest walkers in the country and it is a fact that in the days when stage coaches carried passengers between Stevens Point and Berlin that on three different occasions Mr. Luce started out on foot from Berlin and arrived in this city from thirty minutes to an hour ahead of the coach, which in those days was drawn by four horses.

Home Coming at Portage.

During the first four days of September, Columbia county will have a homecoming in connection with its fair, for which the people of Portage have been making preparations for some time. Allie Wooster will be present with his relay race attraction and there will be several free amusements at the fair. The reunion of home-comers will be held on the first day, Sept. 1st, with speeches by numerous old time residents. Formal reception at the Armory by the ladies of Portage, auto rides about the city and other amusements will help make the week notable. On Friday afternoon, September 4, all home-comers will be admitted to the fair free of charge and it is planned to have a grand parade on that afternoon. The city officials, home-comers and all the civic organizations of the city will be invited to be in line, and all brass bands in attendance will also participate.

ELECTION ON LICENSE

Special Will Be Held on Tuesday, Sept. 15th, to Decide Question of Higher Liquor License.

Last Saturday S. G. Stoddard filed the following notice and request with City Clerk M. V. Gross, the same being signed by E. M. Copps, J. D. Giles, N. A. Week, F. S. Hyer and 153 others:

You are hereby requested by the undersigned qualified electors of the city of Stevens Point, Portage county, Wisconsin, (said electors being, in number more than ten per centum of the number of votes cast in said city of Stevens Point for governor at the last preceding election) to call a special election, on the third Tuesday of September next, for the purpose of increasing the amount to be paid for license to sell strong, spirituous, malt, ardent or intoxicating liquors to be drank on the premises, within the city of Stevens Point, Portage county, Wisconsin, from Two Hundred dollars to Five Hundred dollars.

In compliance with the above the clerk has called a special election to be held on Tuesday, Sept. 15th, 1908, in the various wards of the city, in compliance with law, as per official notice published elsewhere in this issue. The polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., and the ballots will contain the following: "To increase license to $500. Yes—No—"

If a majority of electors place an X after the word "yes," local liquor dealers must pay an annual license fee of $500 on and after July 1st, 1909, or until a change shall be determined at another election. If, however, the majority vote no, then the license fee will remain as at present, $200 per annum. The petition or request contains the names of 157 electors, or 18 more than are required by law, and are business men, professional men, mechanics, laborers, etc., residing in all parts of the city.

Sons of Veterans' Picnic.

The Portage County Sons of Veterans' association will hold its thirteenth annual picnic at Lake Emily next Friday, Aug. 21st. E. L. Bailey, president, extends a cordial invitation to all to come and enjoy the day with them. B. F. Armstrong, division commander, of Racine, will be present and deliver an address.

POLISH PEOPLE LOYAL

Public Demonstration Wednesday Evening in Honor of Visit of Bishop Rhode to Stevens Point.

The procession in honor of Bishop Rhode, of Chicago, as announced in last week's issue of The Gazette, and which took place Wednesday evening, indicated the patriotic christian feeling that prevails among the Polish people of Stevens Point, as well as elsewhere. The procession started from St. Joseph's academy at about 8 o'clock and just before starting, Bishop Rhode, Bishop Fox and Monsgr. Rainer, the latter of Milwaukee, were met by Mayor Cashin, who delivered a short, but sincere address of welcome, in which he congratulated the Polish people on Bishop Rhode's appointment as auxiliary bishop of Chicago, spoke of the work of the church in the cause of civilization, and the prominent part therein taken by the two million Poles in the United States.

The procession was headed by chief marshal, Andrew Kriger, on horseback, followed by several hundred children, boys and girls, of the parish, who carried flags, American and Polish, which they waved as they walked, making a decidedly pretty appearance. Next came the Union band, followed by the various church organizations, the members of which carried a hundred or more torches, while others fired Roman candles along the line of march.

A carriage containing the mayor and three members of the council was followed by another carriage containing Bishop Rhode, Bishop Fox, Monsgr. Rainer and Father Pescinski, and both carriages were neatly decorated for the occasion. The bishops were attired in their clerical robes and along either side of the carriage marched a guard of horsemen and torch bearers. People on foot and in carriages swelled the procession, which moved south to Main street, west to Second and north on Second to St. Peter's church, where the visiting Chicago divine delivered a brief sermon in the Polish language, closing with his blessing. The bishops and clergy then retired to the residence of Father Pescinski, while all who wished remained to enjoy music furnished by the band on the Bokolt lawn.

Along the line of march residences and business places were appropriately decorated and the arches which had previously been erected on Main street, contained words of welcome for Bishop Rhode.

DEATH OF GRACE SELLERS

One of Stevens Point's Most Estimable Young Ladies Summoned to the Great Beyond—Funeral on Sunday.

It is with profound regret we are called upon to chronicle the death of Miss Grace Sellers, one of Stevens Point's most popular young ladies, who died at the family home, 332 Plover street, at a quarter past six o'clock this morning. Although she had been desperately ill for a couple of weeks, the hopes and prayers of the community were extended for her recovery.

For some months Miss Sellers had been troubled with frequent and severe headaches, but she was able to perform her regular duties at the local telephone exchange, and in fact of late worked harder than ordinarily in anticipation of a vacation with friends in Michigan. Part of Sunday, Aug. 2d, was enjoyed up the river, but shortly after her return home she was stricken with brain fever and had been conscious only at intervals since then. The best of medical attendance and advice and the kind ministrations of loved ones failed to bring the desired results and the young lady gradually grew weaker until the final summons came.

Grace was born on a farm in the town of Plover, twenty-four years ago the 3d of last May. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John

A Complete and Up-To-Date Fair.

The Central Wisconsin State Fair to be held at Marshfield Aug. 25 to 28, promises to be bigger and better than ever. It is an assured fact that the stock, poultry, dairy and farm exhibits will greatly exceed any previous year. The liberal purses offered have already secured a big entry list of fast horses. The many good attractions, such as the Belmont sisters, world renowned aeronauts, the hay rack rubes, ferris wheel, tented shows, floral parade, fire run and one of the grandest electrical displays Marshfield ever attempted, will make the week attractive to all. The Central Wisconsin State Fair is fast taking a place among the leading fairs in this section of the state and this year in particular will be a hummer.

Square dealing is Jos. Glinski's motto. Give him a call before ordering your suit or overcoat. tf

Maxims from Kniveton.

Dainty methods are admired. Love of character makes the noble woman. Sweetness of thought creates many friends. Deep gratitude is admirable. How welcome the pleasant smile. Sense of duty brings sunshine out of clouds. Treasures are often found where least expected. Appreciation is the stepping stone to many favors.

May Perkins Guenther.

Mill Wood and Coal.

Now is the time to give your orders for green mill wood and hard and soft coal, for all of which I am prepared to make immediate delivery at the lowest prices. T. Olson, 502 Franklin street, telephone No. 54. a29tf

DECLARED A DIVIDEND

Home Coming Committee After Paying All Expenses, Has a Cash Balance on Hand of $173.02.

Last week's issue of The Gazette contained an announcement to the effect that the Home Coming committee had a balance on hand after liquidating all bills, and that subscribers would receive a dividend of 20 per cent. Below is given an itemized account of the receipts and disbursements, as prepared by R. B. Johnson, secretary-treasurer:

Funeral of J. W. Archibald.....
The funeral of the late John W. Archibald took place from the Episcopal church at 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, Rev. E. M. Thompson officiating. Hymns were sung by Miss Kate Ball. The last rites were in charge of the Masonic fraternity, the services at the grave being conducted by Elliott L. Martin, worshipful master. The pallbearers were also selected from among the members of the local order as follows: F. S. Hyer, F. A. Southwick, M. E. Bruce, E. H. Rothman, H. C. Welty and C. W. Simonson. The funeral was largely attended by friends of the deceased, and there were a number of beautiful floral offerings in designs, bouquets, etc.
Perfect Pantry.
No kitchen convenience ever invented has received the universal approval of the women who have seen it that has been accorded the "Perfect Pantry." Absolute cleanliness is only one of its attractive features. It is absolutely mouse, insect and dust proof. Nothing equals it in economy of space and the amount contained in that space. It is only 28 inches wide and hangs on the wall over the kitchen table, yet contains the flour, sugar, spices, etc., etc., used every day. Being right at hand, the Pantry saves the housewife hundreds of steps every day, making housework easier and pleasant.
The Perfect Pantry Co. have their offices in rooms Nos. 4 and 5, Atwell block, next to the Journal office, and extend a cordial invitation to everyone to call and inspect this unique novelty. The rooms will be open every afternoon and evening for the reception of visitors.
Horse Shoeing.
If your horse is lame, interferes or is not going right, bring him to F. F. Kirshing, the Water street horse shoeer, who guarantees his work. tf

More Locals.

Attend the Wausau Business College, Wausau, Wis.

Farmers' Sweepstakes.

Have you noticed the "Farmers Sweepstakes" on page 51 of the Stevens Point Fair premium list? If not, you should do so at once and arrange to compete for the excellent premiums offered. If you have not received a premium list, Secy. Park will be pleased to send you one. w3

Coming August 31st.

Dr. F. B. Brewer, who has made regular visits for years, has made it a business of a life time to investigate and study diseases of the chest, throat, liver, heart, blood and their accompanying symptoms. He has proven that these diseases even in the stages considered beyond the ordinary method of treatment, can by a rational and mild means, be retarded, arrested or permanently cured. Few physicians have had the opportunity that Dr. Brewer has had in investigating and examining the various forms of this class of diseases. The fact of his practice being constantly on the increase, goes to prove the efficiency of his treatment. His reputation and success becoming so extended, the number of years that he has enjoyed it, his devotion to the pursuits and studies of his profession, is one of the strongest and most competent testimonies that can be given him.

Dr. Brewer's next visit will be at the Jacobs House, in this city, Monday, August 31st.

Notice to Water Consumers.

Patrons of the Water company are hereby warned against the unlicensed use of water on lawns, allowing water to run continuously without restraint, while they are entitled only to the use of same within a period of four hours, which hours will be specified and enforced if necessary, as is done in other cities. Also the use of water by cement walk builders and others, not patrons of the company, is strictly forbidden unless arranged for at the office. Non-compliance with the above, as also the discontinuing of sprinkling at 8 p. m. will justify the company shutting off water without further notice and will hereafter be enforced.—Stevens Point Water Co., by J. A Farmers' Campaign Fund.

To the Farmers of the United States: The first contribution made to the democratic campaign fund this year, so far as we know, was made by an Iowa farmer. Just before the Denver convention met, this man, whose modesty prefers not to have his name mentioned, journeyed more than one hundred miles to Lincoln with his contribution of $100, which he left with Mr. Bryan to be given to the committee when organized for the campaign.

This farmer was born in Sweden and for some time after he was naturalized was a member of the republican party, but he was a student of public questions and in the course of time became a democrat. He has been a reader of The Commoner since its establishment, and to manifest his deep interest in the success of the party and in this triumph of democratic principles, he made this free-will offering to the campaign fund.

It is very appropriate that the first contribution should come from that great body of our population known as agriculturists, for the farmer has nothing to gain by privilege and favoritism; his hope is in the application of the doctrine of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none." He has been the victim of all special legislation, and has suffered from the control of politics by the great predatory corporations. Now that the democratic party has announced its determination not to accept contributions from corporations, not to accept excessive contributions even from individuals, and to publish all contributions above a reasonable minimum, it ought to be able to secure a sufficient campaign fund from those patriotic citizens who ask from the government nothing but protection to their rights and consideration for the general welfare.

There are hundreds of thousands of farmers who are abundantly able to contribute to the campaign fund. There are thousands who could give $100 apiece without feeling it; there are tens of thousands who could give $50 apiece without sacrifice, and still more who could give $25 or $10 or $5.

As the national committee has not yet been organized, we will ask The Commoner to call for subscriptions to this farmers' fund. Those giving can indicate whether they are willing to have their names mentioned and, if the contribution is not more than $100, their wishes will be complied with. All contributions above $100 must be made known, no matter from whom they come.

The farmers' fund will be turned over to the national committee as soon as its permanent officers have been selected. Who will be the first to respond? The Denver convention was a people's convention; it adopted a strong, clear, honest platform, and its nominations were made with practical unanimity. Our fight is a fight for the whole people. Our aim is equal and exact justice to all; our purpose is to restore the government to the hands of the freely chosen representatives of the voters. How many farmers will join in furnishing the fund necessary to present the issues?

William J. Bryan.

"Things To Be Remembered."

The following editorial is taken from the New York Evening Post:

If the democratic managers wish to have a little fun with the republicans they need only dig up the speeches of prominent republicans made in the last campaign. There is Senator Dick of Ohio, for instance. In 1904 he was rubbing it into Bryan in splendid style, because of prophecies of bad times that had gone wrong, and a postal card, "part of the Congressional Record," which Mr. Dick fathered, went through the country, bearing among others the following "Things to be Remembered."

Remember 1893-1896 and the days of industrial gloom.

Remember 1893-1896 and the thousands of capable mechanics looking in vain for work.

Remember 1893-1896 and the hundreds of thousands of laborers walking the streets from sunrise to sunset looking for the work which could not be found.

Remember 1893-1896 and the countless number of women and children waiting, faint with hunger for the bread which never came.

Remember 1893-1896 and the heart-sickness, the worry, the unpaid and unpayable debts, and all the many ills that attended the man out of work.

Remember 1893-1896 and the landlord waiting at the door for the rent money, which could not be provided.

Remember 1893-1896 when the factory whistle failed to blow for another day's work, another day's pay.

Remember 1893-1896 and the wives and children wanting clothes.

Remember 1893-1896 and the un-American soup houses and other forms of charity necessary to relieve those who need relief when they can get work.

For Sheriff.

Subject to the decision of the voters at the primary election next fall, I wish to announce myself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff. Assuring the public that if nominated and elected, I will give the office and its duties personal and careful attention, performing every obligation to the best of my ability, I solicit your support. James Tovey.
Stockton, May 25, 1908.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Portage County:—I would at this time beg to inform you that I will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff of Portage county at the primary election to be held in September next, and I respectfully solicit your support. If elected I will try to conduct the office in a manner that will give you no reason to regret giving me that support. Respectfully yours,
D. Kelsey.

For Sheriff.

To the voters of Portage county:—In the response to the solicitation of friends and the promise of support from my acquaintances, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Portage county, on the Republican ticket, subject to your endorsement at the next primary election, Sept. 1.

Yours respectfully,
John A. Berry.

Plover, Wis., July 2, 1908.

For Register of Deeds.

To the voters of Portage county:—I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of register of deeds, subject to the will of the people at the coming primary election, at which time my name will be found upon the Republican primary ballot. Having resided in Stevens Point from childhood and being well known to a majority of the voters in Portage county, I deem it unnecessary to introduce myself formally, but assure all that if nominated and elected, the duties of the office will be given careful and competent attention, and all who have business with me will be treated in a courteous and just manner. I have never heretofore asked for an office at the hands of the voters of the county, but would be pleased with your support at this time. Very respectfully,
S. E. Karner.
Stevens Point, July 7, 1908.

For Register of Deeds.

To the voters of Portage county:—I wish to announce that I will be a Republican candidate for the office of register of deeds at the Primary election to be held September next.

As it will not be possible for me to see all personally, I take this opportunity of thanking my many friends for the kindly support given me in the past, and of assuring them that any favors shown me, or efforts put forth in my behalf at this time, will be fully appreciated. Geo. E. Vaughn.

Carl O. Doxrud.

For Member of Assembly.

To the voters of Portage county: Subject to the decision of the voters at the primary election this fall, I wish to announce myself a candidate for the Republican nomination for member of assembly of Portage county. I respectfully solicit your support and if elected will perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Martin O. Wrolstad.

New Hope, Wis., July 29th, 1908.

For District Attorney.

To the voters of Portage county:—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of district attorney, at the primary election to be held September 1, 1908. I respectfully solicit your support and will greatly appreciate the same. It goes without saying that, if nominated and elected to this office, I shall perform the duties thereof to the best of my ability. W. F. Owen.
Dated July 1, 1908.

For District Attorney.

To the voters of Portage county: Pursuant to a custom which has been adopted by candidates for public office, I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of district attorney for the county of Portage, to be voted for at the regular primary election, which will be held on the first day of September, 1908. Should my candidacy meet with the approval of the voters of this county, and should I be nominated and elected, I shall ever try to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability. Respectfully yours,
Geo. B. Nelson.

For Treasurer.

To the voters of Portage county:—I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, at the primary election to be held September 1, 1908. In this connection I solicit the support of the Republicans of the county and in the event of my nomination and election will devote my best efforts and my whole time to the duties of the office, the same as I have done during my present term. Charles Dake.

For Register of Deeds.

To the voters of Portage county:—At the solicitation of many friends and subject to the will of the voters of Portage county, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for register of deeds. I have been a resident of Wisconsin for twenty-six years and of Portage county for nine years, and have been a notary public in Stevens Point for the past four years. The Color of Jade.

The idea of Jade possessing the virtue of bringing the wearer food fortune arose in China, where the stone is so valued that the finding of a particularly fine piece causes the state to take possession of the land where it was found. The best specimens represent all the hues and effects of sea foam, but these are eagerly snapped up by collectors and seldom come into the public market. There is another cause for the popularity of jade. Its peculiar green tinge has the effect of making the human skin look very white. In this connection the quality of the stone is of no account so long as the color is there. Indeed, many of the less expensive Jade ornaments are made from chips of the stone which contain noticeable flaws.—Pearson's.

The Actress' Rerort.

Georgette Leblanc, the actress, wife of Maurice Maeterlinck, was on tour in a French town, where the local company "supported" her in one of her husband's plays.

But the support was weak and halting. The poet's lines were mangled, and several characters seemed unable to understand what they were saying. Mme. Leblanc sought out her manager and spoke to him.

"A writer like Maeterlinck should be treated with more respect."

"Madame," he answered, "M. Maeterlinck is not the first to suffer. Sophocles, Moliere, Racine, Shakespeare, Goethe and other great dramatists are daily murdered in the same way."

"Possibly, but they are not murdered alive, at any rate."

Joseph M. Gilman. In the death of Joseph M. Gilman, of the town of Plover, another pioneer of Portage county has been called. He had been in failing health for a long time, due to old age, and had been in an unconscious condition from about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening until the time of his death at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, when he quietly passed away. The deceased was born at St. Albans, Vermont, Nov. 19, 1825, and was therefore nearly 83 years of age. He was married to Miss Katherine Williams, at Sheffield, Vt., in 1846, and in 1856 they came to Wisconsin, locating at Kenosha, but later removed to Illinois, where they resided for seven years. In 1863 the family arrived in Stevens Point and for fourteen years lived upon what was known as the Brown and Wheelock farms, just east of the city. Thirty-one years ago they removed to the town of Plover, about four miles south of the village, locating upon a farm, where he died. His wife died in April, 1895, and they are survived by seven children, George, John, Joseph, William, Mrs. Kate Langton, Mrs. Lizzie Baker and Mrs. Cora Wood, all residents of the town of Plover except John, who resides at Antigo and was here for the funeral. One of the daughters, Mrs. Wood, lives on the old homestead and cared for her father during his illness. Mr. Gilman will be well and favorably remembered by many of our older citizens. He was stalwart in appearance, a man of fine physique and commanding manners, and with a noble citizen, husband, father and friend. While a resident of Illinois he held the office of justice of the peace and after coming here was elected as chairman of the town of Hull. He also held various offices in the town of Plover.

The funeral was held from the house at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, thence to the Calkins M. E. church at 3 o'clock, Rev. F. C. Zoerb officiating, with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

OLD SETTLERS AT REST

Death's Harvest in Portage County During the Past Week Has Been unusually Large.

JOSEPH SPRINGER.

After a long and painful illness, Jos. Springer died at his farm home at Lone Pine, in the town of Almond, at 7:30 o'clock last Saturday morning. Mr. Springer had been in failing health for the past two years and for about seven months had suffered greatly, being confined to his bed much of the time. For several months during the winter he was at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. Casey, in the village of Almond, that he might receive the latter's constant personal professional attention, but later was taken back to the old farm home where he was relieved from further suffering at the hour above stated.

Joseph Springer was born in Hamilton, Ontario, Jan. 31, 1835, but came with the other members of his family to the United States when about ten years of age and spent his youth in Illinois. In 1855 he came north and for several years worked in the woods and on the river. He was married to Miss Betsy Else, Jan. 25, 1865, and the next fall located on the farm which had since been the family home. The environments of the pinery still appealed to him, however, and for several years after engaging in farming he spent more or less of his time in the woods and on the river and was well known to nearly every pinery boy along the Wisconsin river valley. He was a man of good heart and kindly manner, a staunch friend, strong in his likes and dislikes. Throughout his life he was known as a brave, fearless man, and when death drew near he did not shudder at its approach, but rather received it with welcome. Throughout the community in which he resided he was greatly respected, and the friends who have known him for years, will regret his departure.

He is survived by his widow and four children, John H. of this city, Gerald C. of Buena Vista, Frank R. of Lone Pine and Mrs. Ella R. Casey of Almond. Two sons preceded their father to the grave, Walter D. in infancy and Jos. F. when ten years of age. Mr. Springer also leaves four brothers and one sister, David Springer of Hawley, Minn., Oliver Springer of Freeport, Ill., Darius Springer of Bloomington, Ill., Harvey Springer of Brainerd, Minn., and Mrs. Loretta Bailey of North Anderson, Ind.

The funeral took place from the family home and thence to the school house near by at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. L. B. Bullock, of Manawa, an old friend of the deceased, officiating, and who paid a deserved tribute to the memory of the deceased. The procession was one of the largest seen in this county in a long time, friends of Mr. Springer and family being present from all parts of the country. The pallbearers were Chas. Hamilton, John Gustin, R. L. Rogers, John Fisher, Bert White, Walter Shewburn and Dan Schilling.

JOSEPH M. GILMAN. In the death of Joseph M. Gilman, of the town of Plover, another pioneer of Portage county has been called. He had been in failing health for a long time, due to old age, and had been in an unconscious condition from about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening until the time of his death at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, when he quietly passed away. The deceased was born at St. Albans, Vermont, Nov. 19, 1825, and was therefore nearly 83 years of age. He was married to Miss Katherine Williams, at Sheffield, Vt., in 1846, and in 1856 they came to Wisconsin, locating at Kenosha, but later removed to Illinois, where they resided for seven years. The funeral was held from the house at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, thence to the Calkins M. E. church at 3 o'clock, Rev. F. C. Zoerb officiating, with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

MRS. JOHN LANDOWSKI.

Mrs. John Landowski, whose home was at 116 North street, passed away last Thursday morning after an illness of only a few days, her death being due to blood poisoning. Mrs. Landowski, who was only 32 years of age, is survived by her husband and eight children, the oldest about 14 years of age and the youngest only two weeks.

The funeral took place from St. Peter's church last Saturday morning, Revs. Pescinski and Forsyth officiating. The members of the Polish Rosary society attended the funeral in a body. The parents of the deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Fukuro, two brothers and a sister, of Superior, were also present.

ALBERT E. PITTSLEY.

Albert E. Pittsley died at the home of H. T. Webster, 1116 Michigan avenue, at 11:30 o'clock last Friday night, the result of heart trouble with which he had been suffering for some time.

The deceased was born in Ixle, Broome county, N. Y., April 18, 1854, and was therefore 54 years of age. He came to Wisconsin about twenty-five years ago and for some time lived in the town of Buena Vista, later removing to this city, where he was employed as a carpenter and laborer.

Last fall he went to Gilbert, Minn., in company with his brother's family, but becoming ill this spring and receiving no relief, he decided to come back, feeling that he could be helped by his former physician, Dr. Lindores. He arrived here Friday morning on the 2:30 o'clock train, accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Geo. Pittsley, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Pittsley, seeming to have suffered no ill effects from the journey, but during the day suddenly became worse and passed away at the hour above stated. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Geo. Martin, of Marathon, N. Y., and Mrs. Geo. Holland of this city, and one brother, Geo. Pittsley of Gilbert.

The funeral took place from the South Side chapel at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. C. F. Spray officiating, followed by interment in Forest cemetery.

GEORGE RUSSELL.

Geo. Russell, who had been a resident of Wisconsin for over half a century and of Portage county for about forty years, died at the home of Mrs. N. Winslow, 218 Dixon street, who is a relative by marriage, at 4 o'clock last Friday morning. Death was the result of kidney trouble and other complications, after an illness of about three weeks.

Mr. Russell was a native of New York, where he was born Sept. 8, 1834, being nearly 74 years of age. Soon after coming to this county he was married to Mrs. Marlatt, and had since lived in the towns of Stockton and Plover, being engaged in farming, the latter town being the family home for the past 31 years. Mrs. Russell died in 1904, and since last December Mr. Russell had lived alone. After becoming ill, however, he was brought to the home of Mrs. Winslow, that he might receive proper care and attention. He is survived by three stepchildren, H. A. Marlatt, of Nekoosa, Mrs. A. E. Bourn, of this city, and Peter Marlatt, of Lyons, Ohio. For several years before becoming ill Mr. Russell had charge of Plover cemetery.

The funeral took place at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, Rev. C. F. Spray officiating, the remains being taken to Plover for interment.

MRS. PATRICK PADDEEN.

Mrs. Patrick Padden died at her home in the town of Buena Vista at 1:25 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8th, death being due to general debility. She had been strong and robust mentally as well as physically until Feb. 24th, when her home was burned and within one week after she was stricken with paralysis, which affected her limbs and she was unable to walk without assistance thereafter. For some time however, she seemed to rally and no decided change for the worse was noticed until about one week before her death. Between eleven and twelve o'clock Saturday night it was apparent that the end was near and she rapidly sank until at the hour above stated she passed peacefully away without a struggle.

Bridget Naven was born in County Mayo, Ireland, Jan. 29, 1817, and was therefore past 91 years of age. She came to America in 1858, and was married to Patrick Padden in March, 1846, at Lyons, New York. They moved to Stevens Point shortly after and were among our first settlers. In 1865 they moved to Buena Vista, which town has been the family home ever since. Mr. Padden died Dec. 27, 1893. They are survived by six children, two others having preceded them to the great beyond. The remaining members are Jane and David Padden, who reside at the old home, Mrs. Mike Tobin of Lanark, Thos. of Buena Vista, James of Montana, Mrs. John Carson of Brainerd, Minn., and Miss Margaret Griffith, who has always resided at the family home, she being a granddaughter of the deceased lady. Mrs. Padden was a kind hearted woman, of strong religious sentiments, one who was respected by all who knew her and her memory will not soon be forgotten.

The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church in Lanark at 10:30 Tuesday morning, of last week, Rev. James Meagher officiating, assisted by St. Patrick's choir, with interment in the parish cemetery. The ladies of the Altar Society to which she belonged, attended in a body. The children were all present except James, and Mrs. Carson arrived too late for the funeral. Relatives from abroad were M. J. Cauley of Wausau, Wm. Cauley and family of Custer, Thos. Cauley of Stevens Point, Jerome, Russell and son of Almond, and Wm. Russell and wife of Almond. The pallbearers were Patrick Dunn, Richard Curran, James Dougherty, Sr., John Hopkins, Patrick McNamara and Mike Riley.

PAIN

Pain in the head—anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestive pain, blood pressure—nothing else. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—eases blood pressure away from pain centers. It effects a charming, pleasantly delightful, gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painless, it's not with women same cause. If you are sluggish, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course, it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You find it where pain always is. It's simply common sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorder quickly follow.

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney illness.

Mrs. James Crawford, living in the west part of Plainfield, Wis., says, "My husband suffered for a long time from a lame back and sharp pains across his loins. These pains were so severe that he could scarcely move and the kidneys acted so terribly and gave him so much trouble that he was often forced to give up work. Dr. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to him and he procured a box.

The pains in his back and his kidneys were regulated. The loss of weight followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in his case were very satisfactory."

HIGHWAY DRAINAGE.

Tiles Are Best For Gravel or Stone Roads.

SOME POINTS ON THE WORK.

Underdrainage Below Surface With Farm Tiles a Great Protection—Side Ditches That Hold Water Make an Inferior Roadway.

Tile drainage, says Professor Ira O. Baker, is the very best preparation for a gravel or a stone road. Gravel or broken stone placed upon an undrained foundation is almost sure to sink gradually, whereas a thinner layer upon an underdrained roadway will give much better service. "Roads tiled without gravel are better than roads graveled without tile."

The road should be underdrained so as to keep the water level well below the road surface. In most localities this can be accomplished reasonably well by laying a line of farm tile three or three and a half feet below the road surface along one side of the roadway. It is sometimes claimed that there should be a tile on each side of the road.

Some writers on good roads advocate the use of a line of tile under the middle of the traveled portion, and some advocate a line on each side of the wheelway. The object sought by these tiles is rapid drainage, and therefore it is urged that they should be laid near the surface. It is doubtful whether any water will reach the tile, since the road surface when wet is puddled by the traffic, which prevents the water percolating through the soil, and it is certain that in clay or loam the drainage thus obtained is of no practical value.

More than one farmer has tried to drain his barnyard by laying tile near the surface, always without appreciable effect.

It seems that Mr. Bryan has observed that the men that Mr. Roosevelt so fiercely denounced for "working for a reaction" are now laboring violently for Mr. Taft.

Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocers everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 50 minutes boiling. J. L. Jensen.

And Mr. Taft now should be able in his letter of acceptance to congratulate the farmers that their lives have been made brighter by Roosevelt's measure to bring sunshine into their homes.

To Redden the Blood

Rich, red blood. That is what pale, weak, nervous people need.

Red blood to form new cells and tissues, to invigorate the nerves, to strengthen the heart's action, to give energy and vigor to the organs of the body.

The elements from which nature forms rich, red blood are found in condensed and easily assimilated form in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and because of its wonderful blood-building qualities this great restorative has become world famous.

There is no guess work, no experimenting with this treatment. Every dose is bound to do you a certain amount of good.

Mrs. H. HARBOUR, Mansfield, Ohio, states: "A child of mine was pale, bloodless, weak and nervous. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills acted splendidly, making the nerves strong the blood rich, the color good, and building up the system in every way."

DANCY.

G. G. Knoller transacted business at Wausau, Monday.

Mrs. C. E. Gill, of Wausau, visited relatives in this vicinity the past week.

Miss Johanna Kling, of Stevens Point, is spending a few days at her home in this village.

Miss Josie Lake left for Chicago, Saturday, where she will spend some time visiting relatives.

Miss Alice Dinwoodie left for Wausau, Saturday, with the intention of entering the business college for a course of study.

Quite a number from here attended the "home coming" at Mosinee last Wednesday, and report having had a firstclass time.

Ed. Gorman and J. J. Okoneski, two of Wausau's rising young attorneys, were in Dancy last Saturday on professional business.

Miss Ella Marchel entertained several friends from Stevens Point, last Sunday. They made the trip in the G. W. Andrae automobile.

The past week Miner Altenburg purchased of Mrs. E. J. Willard her farm located at this village. It is Mr. Altenburg's intention to improve the place and use it for stock farm purposes.

Miss Mayme Kavanagh, of Wausau, visited Mrs. G. G. Knoller and daughter Evelyn in this village, recently, and with them attended the "home coming" at Stevens Point. Miss Kavanagh was on her way to her home at Kaukauna to spend her summer vacation.

Henry Gasper, who has been roadmaster on the north end of the St. Paul railroad's Valley division, for some time, has been changed and promoted. Hereafter he will occupy the same position on the new western extension, with headquarters at Chamberlain, S. D. Mr. Gasper has many friends all through this locality who will be pleased to hear of his success.

AMHERST.

Threshing machines are all in action. Bert Dwinell bought an automobile in Milwaukee last week.

T. Jensen, of Nelsonville, recently opened up a restaurant in Amherst Junction.

Hugh Allen is now proprietor of the Frank Dulack meat market at Amherst Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Foss, of Minneapolis, were guests at A. G. Peterson's, last Sunday.

W. H. Gildersleeve and wife, of Billingham, Mass., are guests at the home of H. H. Hoffman.

The Farmers' corporation is making arrangements for building a potato warehouse at Amherst Junction.

Cauley & Wilson's crew finished putting in the hydrants to the new extension of the water works last week.

L. D. Vincent was in Madison last week and bought a Cadillac touring automobile. Now we will all take a ride.

Anna Hays, of Boston, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins, in Lanark, returned home Monday.

Harry Pomeroy, Herb Harmon and Myron Harrington, of Waupaca, who have been camping above Nelsonville, broke camp Monday.

Miss Harriet B. Moberg, who has been laid up with sickness, is improving and will soon be able to attend to her duties in the postoffice.

Miss Lillie Foss, of Minneapolis, who was visiting at A. G. Peterson's, fell down stairs last Wednesday and broke her left arm just above the wrist.

John Skoglund's men, Henry Halvorson and Max Glodowski, who had been driving a tubular well at E'en's school house, on John E'en's farm, for over one week were rewarded last Thursday when they succeeded in getting the point set at a depth of 117 feet by getting a good flow of water that has been running a steady stream ever since. This we believe is the first artesian well in the county. Hundreds of visitors have been there to drink. The pressure at the bottom of the well is 58 pounds per square inch.

KNOWLTON.

Miss Kate Krieski was a Merrill visitor Sunday.

C. E. Guenther transacted business in Wausau, Monday.

leaving for Ashland. He reports his business firstclass in the northern town.

John and Anna Ryan, of Custer, took the morning train from here for Rhinelander and expect to visit several weeks among friends.

Chas. McCarthy, of Chicago, was a caller among relatives and friends the past week. He is taking lively interest in boosting the Stevens Point fair.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the ice cream social at A. F. Neuman's home, Thursday, Aug. 20th. If it should rain the event will be postponed until Friday.

Mike Bruski, Sr., had a rather unpleasant accident while coming home from the creamery with a load of buttermilk, last Wednesday. While driving over the railroad tracks his vehicle collapsed and the occupant found himself riding close to the ground for a few minutes.

David Boursier and wife entertained twenty-five girl and boy friends at their home south of here, it being in honor of the departure of Miss Lillian Wagner. A very enjoyable time was had by all as Mr. Boursier is a firstclass entertainer in all respects. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

State Good Roads Association to Hold Its Annual Convention in Milwaukee, on Tuesday, Sept. 8th.

Preparations are being made for one of the biggest Good Roads Conventions ever held in the country. The first state convention, held last year, had nearly two thousand people present, and a permanent organization was formed with Ex-Governor Hoard as president.

This state convention was considerably larger than any of the national good roads gatherings that have been held for many years, and from the interest already manifested, it seems probable that there will be more delegates present than last year.

Every town chairman in the state has been asked to suggest the names of prominent farmers in his locality who will be appointed as delegates, and it is hoped that a number from Portage county are sufficiently interested to attend.

The State Good Roads Association is very much interested in the amendment to the constitution of the state which must be passed by the people in our November elections before our state can give state money to aid the farmers to pay for building good roads. This amendment will doubtless be very thoroughly discussed.

The committee aims to make this convention better than the one held last year. It is planned in so far as will permit, to give each delegate who desires it an opportunity to discuss any of the questions under consideration. The meeting will not be held on the State Fair grounds as last year, but in some large hall downtown. The place will be announced later.

NEWS OF A WEEK TOLD IN BRIEF

MOST IMPORTANT EVENTS GATHERED FROM ALL POINTS OF THE GLOBE.

GIVEN IN ITEMIZED FORM

Notable Happenings Prepared for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Summary of the Latest Home and Foreign Notes.

PERSONAL.

James Wickersham of Juneau was elected representative in congress from Alaska.

Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, former wife of Brodie L. Duke, the tobacco magnate, was convicted in Chicago of obtaining money under false pretenses by passing forged checks.

Harry K. Thaw was formally adjudged a bankrupt in Pittsburg by referee in Bankruptcy W. R. Blair.

William J. Bryan was formally notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party, the event being the occasion of a great celebration in Lincoln, Neb.

John W. Boehne, mayor of Evansville, Ind., was nominated for congress by the Democrats.

Mehmed Ali Bey, the Turkish minister to the United States, admitted that he had received advices from his government recalling him from his post.

After two false starts Wilbur Wright, the Dayton aeroplanist, made a successful ascension at Lemans, France. The machine flew about two kilometers (1.24 miles) in 1:43.

Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for president, narrowly escaped drowning while swimming in the Y. M. C. A. pool at Lincoln, Neb.

GENERAL NEWS.

Springfield, Ill., was completely in the control of a mob for several hours, the police, sheriff's force and troop D of the First cavalry, and the members of Gatling gun section of the Illinois National Guard being unable to do anything to control the mob, which was rendered furious by the removal from the city of George Richardson, a negro who assaulted a white woman.

As the result of the mob's actions one man is dead, another will probably die and several others were injured, while Loper's restaurant was wrecked, the shanties of a number of negroes residing in the "bad lands" burned, and Gov. Deneen called a number of companies of the Illinois National Guard to Springfield to preserve order. Among the injured was R. W. Chafin, candidate for president of the United States on the Prohibition party ticket, who was struck in the head with a brick.

Fire in the East Buffalo stock yards of the New York Central railroad destroyed $1,000,000 worth of property.

Two persons were seriously injured and a dozen others were painfully hurt when an automobile, that was taking part in a hill climbing contest, swerved and ran wild into a throng of spectators at Algonquin, Ill.

E. R. Thomas, former banker and racehorse owner, was seriously injured at Long Branch, N. J., when his automobile struck and wrecked a carriageway.

Bandits held up a Northern Pacific passenger train near Spokane, Wash., and robbed the mail car.

Thomas E. Howell of Beardstown, Ill., sacrificed his life in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue his nephew, Henry N. Howell, 11 years old, from drowning in the Illinois river.

It is announced in Holland that an interesting event is expected in the Dutch royal family.

Louis A. Ryan of Bridgeport, Ill., thrice shot and badly wounded his bride at Noble, Ill., and then probably fatally wounded himself.

Four men attempted to rob a saloon in Chicago and the bartender shot and killed Leemond Smith, alias William Fay, a confidence man.

The Indiana Coal Operators' association ended official relations with the United Mine Workers of America.

Two persons were killed and six injured by the explosion at the grounds of the Franco-British exhibition at London of the balloon owned by Capt. Lovelace of the New York Aero club. One of the dead is Miss Hill, secretary to Capt. Lovelace.

Capt. Baldwin made two successful speed trials of his dirigible balloon at Fort Myer.

The American battleship fleet sailed from Auckland, New Zealand, for Sydney, Australia.

J. Montgomery Sears, a young millionaire of Boston, was killed when his automobile plunged over an embankment. He was a candidate for the Massachusetts senate.

Republicans of Texas nominated a ticket, headed by Col. J. L. Simpson of Dallas for governor.

John J. Carroll, a veteran member of the New Orleans police force, was cut to death by a negro cook, who was afterwards killed by the police.

By the capsizing of a pleasure launch at Kilbourn, Wis., Mrs. W. G. Heath, Miss Mabel Ward and E. G. Pfeiffer and son, all of Chicago, were drowned.

Martin Phillips was arraigned in a New York court on a charge of larceny and held for trial and the case brought out an interesting story of a "high rollers" faro game in a private house in the fashionable upper west-side district. Neville R. Moxley, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa., was the complainant, alleging that he lost $600 in a faro game dealt by Phillips, with whom he had agreed to swindle the house.

At Los Angeles, Cal., H. J. Dufy, 60 years old, went violently insane over religion and killed his son and daughter with an ax. He then slashed his own throat with a razor, but probably will recover.

Stuart Huntley, 75 years old, en route from California to his home in Decatur, Ill., committed suicide at Parsons, Kan., by taking poison. He was recently robbed of money, was divorced from his wife and estranged from other relatives.

Vivian Burden, 12 years old, committed suicide in Kansas City, Mo., by swallowing carbolic acid.

George Vail, Jr., charged with the murder of his father, who disappeared suddenly on June 10, 1907, from Batavia, O., confessed to having committed the crime.

Because his wife would not talk to him as frequently as he desired her to, William Lush, wealthy German citizen of Lincoln, Neb., fired four times at her with a revolver, and then vainly attempted suicide.

The supreme grand lodge of Orange-men elected Henry Stewart of New York grand master and decided to meet in Cleveland, O., in 1919.

Night riders warned Ohio farmers there would be trouble if they didn't pool their tobacco this season.

Miss Frances Sholes, a society girl of Evanston, Ill., was found dead in a gas-filled room and is believed to have committed suicide.

Pietro Brilla, a hotel keeper of Woodhaven, Long Island, was ambushed and murdered by a number of men.

Fire in San Francisco destroyed the Coney Island Amusement pavilion and damaged other buildings, the loss being $100,000.

Harry Jarrel and his sister of Baltimore, Md., were poisoned by toadstools and died at Rochester, N. Y.

Charles Foresman and Henry Rose, young boys, were drowned near Marquette, Mich.

The isthmian canal zone has a plague of dogs and a ukase has gone forth that all dogs at large must be muzzled.

The Methodist Episcopal church has begun an active crusade for the election of a speaker "who will allow congress to vote on the interstate liquor shipment bill."

Six persons were killed and 18 injured in a gun explosion aboard the French gunnery school ship Couronne off Les Salins d'Hyeres.

Charles E. Higbee, aged 52 years, of Denver, one of the world's most noted tunnel builders, was almost instantly killed by an accident at Shoshone, 12 miles east of Glenwood Springs, Colo.

The American Federation of Catholic societies finished its seventh annual convention in Boston by re-electing Edward Feeney of Brooklyn president and selecting Pittsburgh for next year's meeting.

The Colorado Federation of Labor, in convention at Denver, by a unanimous vote endorsed the Democratic party in the national campaign.

During the services, the choir and congregation were surprised when a pretty pigeon made its appearance at the end of one of the tubes of the pipe organ.

The bird had flown down one of the ornamental pipes and was only able to get its head out at the lower end. The organ will have to be torn apart to get the pigeon out.

Pete is a Knowing Trout.

Minstead, Conn.—Pete, a lone trout in a deep spring at Wintergreen, the summer home of Mr. Stone, at Highland lake, answers to his name, coming to the surface whenever it is spoken. He also has been taught to jump out of the water to take worms from a person's fingers.

Pete is one of three trout placed last summer in a small pond fed by the spring. He worked his way up the small underground stream into the walled spring during the winter. Several trout of Pete's size—fully ten inches long—have been placed in the spring at different times this season to keep him company, but the instant they were released he attacked and killed them. Pete has kept the spring free of insects and frogs.

Bishop Says to Kill Flies.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"The horsefly is to us what the wild beasts are to the residents of Africa and India," declares Charles C. Grafton, Episcopal bishop of Fond du Lac.

"As God put man into the world to subdue it, it is part of his duty to put out of existence those who are his enemies in the propagation of disease," he said. "I have known some persons who objected to killing flies because of their natural kindness to animals, but the true character of the fly has only lately been known."

Miss May Williams of Kansas City, Mo., who won a prize last spring as the most beautiful girl in Missouri, committed suicide because her projected marriage was about to be prevented by her removal to an industrial school.

Capt. Baldwin made two successful speed trials of his dirigible balloon at Fort Myer.

The American battleship fleet sailed from Auckland, New Zealand, for Sydney, Australia.

J. Montgomery Sears, a young millionaire of Boston, was killed when his automobile plunged over an embankment. He was a candidate for the Massachusetts senate.

Republicans of Texas nominated a ticket, headed by Col. J. L. Simpson of Dallas for governor.

HIS CLOTHES STOLEN.

WEALTHY MAN REACHED PITTSBURG IN HIS UNDERSHIRT.

Sneak Thief Completely Cleaned Out the Berth of William E. McMillan, and He Couldn't Borrow a Pair of Pants.

Pittsburg, Pa.—William E. McMillan, president of the McMillan Lumber company, Chicago and Baltimore, was the victim of perhaps the most unique, certainly the meanest, sneak thief who ever entered a Pullman car.

While en route from Baltimore to Pittsburgh over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad the thief stole every stitch of clothing possessed by Mr. McMillan while the latter slept. The lumber king, who weighs 200 pounds, had retired wearing only a little dinky athletic undershirt.

He had this when he was waked, and in addition he had been left his fancy vest, a great, gaudy affair. Even the girl who washed the trousers she found the roll of bills, and with clothespins fastened each on the line and left them unguarded.

his shoes and socks, as well as his roll of money—$250—and about $250 in jewelry, was gone. Nor did he have his hat.

McMillan set the porters and train crew at work to find clothing, thinking that some joker friend had taken it, but it was not to be found. The train had made frequent stops in the night, and it is supposed that at one of the stops the sneak thief got on board and carried off Mr. McMillan's wardrobe without waiting to sort things out.

The plight of McMillan, however, was more pitiful than would at first appear, as the train was racing into Pittsburg at great speed and there was not a man on the train who weighed over 140 pounds, and so the question of borrowing a pair of pants for Mr. McMillan's 200 pounds seemed beyond question.

Finally the Pullman conductor, who weighed 137 pounds, announced that he had three pairs of extra trousers in a locker. Mr. McMillan split two of the pairs trying to get into them, even partly, but the third pair held good, and, aided by a sheet kindly contributed by the porter, the lumber king was enabled to reach the baggage shed of the police station, where he got a chance to telephone home for aid.

"I am a peaceable man and I don't want to meet the man who stole my clothes," said Mr. McMillan. "If I do I'm afraid I'll kill him. I traveled about 65,000 miles in the last 18 months, but never had a trick like that played on me before."

"It don't look good to come racing into a big city with nothing on but a short undershirt and a fancy vest, and a lot of splinter weights into whose trousers you couldn't get one leg offering you advice."

$200 on Clothesline.

Ansonia, Conn.—Two hundred dollars in bills hanging on a clothesline was the sight which attracted attention in Woodbury recently. William Wilhelmy of this city drove to Woodbury to visit his brother. He was caught in a thunderstorm, and when he reached his brother's his trousers were wringing wet. He borrowed another pair while the hired girl washed his.

Wilhelmy went calling on friends, and when he returned he found a crowd in front of his brother's home. The sight of his roll dangling on the clothesline was too much for him, and he collapsed with laughter.

After the girl had washed the trousers she found the roll of bills, and with clothespins fastened each on the line and left them unguarded.

PAPAL DELEGATE TO UNITED STATES

Copyright by Waldon Fawcett.
Archbishop Falconio has been the apostolic delegate to this country since 1902, before which time he served as the pope's representative in Canada. He is an Italian by birth and entered the Franciscan order in 1860; he was consecrated bishop in 1892 and raised to the archbishopric three years later.

ELOPER FORGOT THE TICKETS.

And When He Returned for Them a Policeman Arrested a Chicago Man.

Chicago.—William Meyers attempted to slope with Lalibar, the 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Theresa Vaid, but made the mistake of leaving his railroad tickets in his room. When he returned for them, Meyers placed them under arrest.

Mrs. Vaid sent her son to the police, and Meyers persisted, and was ordered to move from the house. He declined to move.

New Industries for Japan.

Meyers Some weeks ago Meyers began to pay attention to the young daughter of his landlord. The mother, a widow, and a large paper material company objected because of the girl's age, the latter being engaged in Meyers persisted, and was ordered to leave the forest there for felling timber.

The other day Mrs. Vaid had some business downtown, and, in order to keep her daughter from seeing Meyers, locked her in a room and took the key with her. Meyers procured a ladder and assisted the girl through a transom. They left the house, intending to go to Michigan. In the meantime Mrs. Vaid returned, and, finding her daughter had escaped, reported the matter to the police. When Meyers returned for them, he was arrested.

Thousands See Cyclist Killed.

Paterson, N. J.—In the presence of several thousand spectators at the Clinton cyclo stadium Sunday, Sonny Bridge, a motor cyclist and former lightweight champion, was thrown from the motor cycle with which he was racing and instantly killed.

Engineer Killed in Collision.

Barre, Vt.—Frank G. Bush of this city, an engineer on a Great Northern road train, was killed at Moorehead when his train collided with a switch engine.

SHED LIGHT ON DARK PLACES OF THE EARTH

CONTINENTS ARE BEING MAPPED

Marvelous Results Achieved by Systematic Exploration

Tremendous Tracts Have Been Opened Up in the Last One Hundred Years—Northern Asia Still a Field for the Venturesome—Peary Now Undertaking One of the Greatest Feats.

P EARY'S new expedition to the north pole opens up an interesting field of thought, writes Edmund Noble in the Boston Sunday Herald. It emphasizes some of the inconsistencies of human achievement. This is an age of scientific marvels. Man has harnessed nature to do his bidding, and is daily discovering new forces or new ways of utilizing them. After penetrating to the depths of the sea, he is already aspiring to the dominion of the air. He weighs planets and suns in his balances, and writes down their composition in the unerring formulae of the chemical laboratory. His telescopes and prisms fetch exact information from the very "confines of the universe." He has not yet completed the survey of his own planet. The night skies have become to him as an open book, yet there are worlds at his very elbow which the most recent geographical science is compelled to class as "unknown."

This delay in mapping the earth is less surprising when it is remembered that geographical science could begin only at a late stage in the evolution of man. For its very possibility, systematic exploration of the planet needed highly civilized peoples, good at conquering, as well as in trade and travel. The earliest promoters of geographical knowledge were thus peoples like the Babylonians, Assyrians, Egyptians, Phoenicians and Greeks. None of them knew the shape of the planet on which they lived; many of them believed it to be a flat plane, diversified by hills and valleys; some pictured the territory of their "known world" as surrounded at distance by a wide river called ocean.

Five hundred years B. C. this nucleus of culture, from which modern civilization was to come forth, comprised a patch of territory considerably smaller than the United States, reaching from the confines of the Persian empire on the east to Spain and the coast of Africa on the west, the whole bounded to the north by the "Hyperboreans." The subsequent expansion of these limits up to the beginning of the Christian era was mainly the work of the Greeks, the Carthaginians and the Latins. The "known world" of the Roman empire reached from Britain to India and China. Germany had then come into view, and Scandinavia was outlined. The northern fringe of Africa had widened somewhat, but the ancients continued to style northern Asia as "Scythian." By 1,000 A. D. Iceland and Greenland were talked about; "Russia" had taken the place of "Sarmatia;" Mongolia and Manchuria found mention on the maps; and there were recorded "landfalls" on the coasts of North America.

DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA. Great Continent Has Only Recently Been Opened Up.

A FRICA is another great continent with which the world made late acquaintance. Egypt, the "shepherd kings," the Nile, the pyramids, make up its classic period. Modern Africa began for geography when, about 450 A. D., Hanno, the Carthaginian, sailed down its west coast as far as Sierra Leone, and the knowledge of it was advanced a further stage when in the fifteenth century Portuguese explorers, including Vasco da Gama, rounded the cape. In Africa, exploration has followed the flow of the great rivers, and will ever be associated with such names as Livingstone, Mungo Park, Bruce, Baker, Stanley, Sjöke, Schweißfurt, Du Chaillu, Serpa Pinto, Wissensfurt, and Donaldson. The Niger had its course determined in the early part of the nineteenth century. "To-day," says a geographical expert, "the Nile has been scientifically explored for its entire length of 3,400 miles, the Niger, with the exception of a small portion of its middle course, for 2,600 miles; the Zambesi for 1,500 miles; and the Congo, which in volume is exceeded only by the Amazon, for nearly 1,600 miles." In Africa, where vast regions are still "dark" for geography, all is unknown. The whole, the politician has sometimes followed the explore. This immense continent first fed the demand for slaves, then satisfied the greed for territory. Unlike China, it was not coveted too late to be partitioned, and to-day, outside Morocco and Abyssinia, there is not a square mile of its area which is not claimed and owned by one or other of the European powers.

EXPEDITIONS TO POLES. Last Portions of Planet's Surface to Be Reached.

THE last portions of the planet's surface to be reached and explored are the poles, both of them more or less ice-bound. The south pole, especially remote from the great centers of civilization, has never attracted more than a scientific interest. The first work done in the geography of the antarctics was done by the discovery of the South Shetland Islands in 1816 by Capt. Smith. Various "lands" have since been revealed—among them Endery Land and Graham Land by Biscoe in 1821, Wilkesland in 1840, by Wilkes, and Victoria Land by Sir James Ross, two years later—but it is not yet definitely known whether these are mere islands or parts of a continent. Extensive land areas around the south pole are meanwhile suggested by the slope of the ocean floor, and by the character of the antarctic icebergs. The coasts are fringed with glaciers, which project for long distances into the sea, showing that if an antarctic continent exists it must be covered everywhere by immense sheets of ice. Ross passed an ice front 200 feet high and 150 miles long; he saw great mountain ranges on Victoria Land, including two volcanic peaks whose height he estimated at from 7,000 to 15,000 feet. One of these was in eruption, pouring forth its lava upon the surrounding snow. The supposed antarctic continent, if one exists, has been estimated at nearly then a blank on the maps, and Alaska utterly untraveled. There are still patches of North America which need description, and vast areas of South America on which the zeal of the explorer is yet to cast light.

AREA STILL UNEXPLORED. Vast Extent of Unknown Territory in Northern Asia.

THE great territory of northern Asia, out of which Chinghis Khan emerged with his Tartar-Mongols in the thirteenth century to be the terror of Europe, has resisted the geographical investigator longest of all. From Marco Polo to Prjevalsky and Sven Hedin, a succession of explorers has been at work in this still mysterious section of the earth's surface, rendered all the more inaccessible by strange languages, stranger customs, and rooted distrust of the "foreigner." It was the Russians who were first to show the way from Europe to the Pacific, for after Yermaloff had reached Sibir in 1579, the successive stages of their advance could not but end in the regions of the Amur, the Sea of Okhotsk, Kamtschatka and Behring straits. Central and southern Asia have been actively explored for two centuries past, yet there are still unknown areas of considerable extent in Burma, Thibet and China.

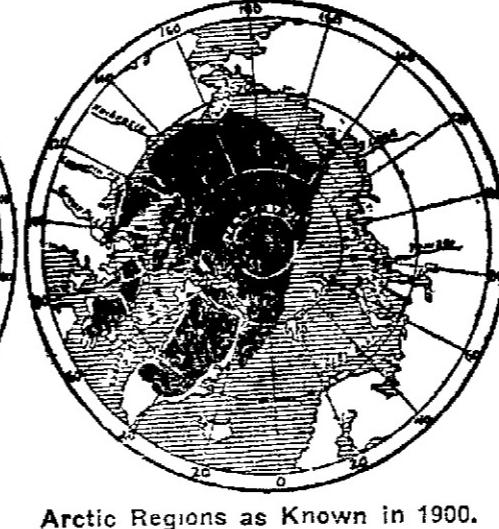

Australasia, now the home of a civilized people living below the equator, is of peculiar interest to Americans. Prior to the sixteenth century this immense continent, with its population of over 6,000,000, was totally unknown to the world. The Spanish, following in the wake of Magellan, were the first to sight it; the Dutch explored its coast lines, and after the voyage of Capt. Cook in the latter end of the eighteenth century, the English took up the work of colonizing and exploring what was originally called "New Holland." Even in 1800 it was an unknown waste, peopled by savages interesting to the anthropologist and supporting flora and fauna of considerable value for the purposes of descriptive natural history. But by and by settlers appeared, and a few populous cities and towns sprang up. Thanks to the efforts of men like Wentworth, Evans, Sturt, Burke, Willis, Warburton, Forest and Giles, a large part of the interior has been explored.

4,000,000 square miles. Up to the present, and in spite of several recent expeditions, navigators are much farther from the south than from the north pole. In 1842 Ross reached 78 degrees 10 minutes, one of the latest records is that of Borchgrevink, who in 1899, gained 75 degrees 50 minutes by using sledges in a dash over the ice.

The romance of polar exploration—of its perils and its heroism—centers in the north. The arctic pole is much nearer to civilization than the antarctic, has a closer connection with the great continents, and is or ought to be somewhat in the line of the world's travel. The movement northward began with the discovery of Greenland by Gunnbjörn at the beginning of the tenth century, and with the planting of colonies on its shores by Eric the Red in 985. Nearly ten centuries thereafter were spent by explorers, first from the Asiatic, then from the American side, in discovering and defining the contours of the Arctic coasts. Both mercantile and scientific aims were in evidence. On the one hand was the search for the northwest passage by Davis, Frobisher, Hudson and Baffin; on the other the no less eager pursuit of the northeast passage by Barentz, Chancellor and others. In 1850-54 McClure successfully accomplished the northwest passage, and gained the reward of $50,000 which had been offered by the British parliament in 1763. By an equally successful feat in 1878-79, Baron Nordenstjern, the Swedish scientist, made the northeast passage in the Vega by passing from Norway along the Asiatic coast into the Pacific ocean.

"It's a little early yet for the big influx of miners from the north, bringing the gold from the gulches just as they found it," said Jack Burton at the Diller hotel. Burton arrived on the steamship Jefferson, which brought upward of a million dollars in gold from the north.

"We had three men aboard that I knew brought more than $100,000 each, but the money was in drafts and currency. The purser's strong box carried more gold than half a dozen men could carry, and in the mail shipments, under the protection of Uncle Sam, there was enough to pay the salary of John D. Rockefeller for a year or more."

Old-time Alaskans say that the day of the individual miner's pike is about gone. Time was, they say, when all the gold that came out of the Yukon valley was brought to Seattle in the leather bags of the miners and sold to the melting shops. Then a United States assay office was established and the miners found it necessary to "mush" up the hill to Ninth avenue.

But even these improvements over the old-time way of handling the golden product of the creeks and gulches of Circle, Birch and Eldorado were forced to the background when the miners began shipping their gold to Seattle by mail.

When the first steamers reach here from Nome it is expected that the price of ice cream and watermelons will be boomed considerably. This is the statement of old-time "sour doughs," who assert, backed by evidence, that men who have lived all winter on bacon and beans in the north have a hankering for ice cream and watermelons that nothing else can satisfy.

Next to the ice cream and watermelons the miners demand fresh green vegetables, young onions prepared and then later on perhaps they become learned in the mysteries of cauliflower au gratin. Rich and juicy beefsteaks stand at the top of the list and clam chowder is not far behind.

By the time the men from the glacier-bound gulches become acclimated they turn from these enjoyments, carefully examine their bank accounts and then buy a ticket on a railroad to visit "the old folks at home."

The northward movement, after exhausting mercantile, exploratory and humanitarian motives, finally became purely scientific and culminated in the "dash for the north pole." In 1827, with the aid of sledges, Parry reached 82 degrees 45 minutes. Nearly 50 years later Markham raised this record to 83 degrees 20 minutes. In 1883, as a member of the Greely expedition, Lieut. Lockwood succeeded at 83 degrees 21 minutes in coming within 450 miles of the pole. The year 1895 marked the attainment of 86 degrees 14 minutes by Nansen, who had adopted the "drift" method of attack. The Abruzzi expedition came in 1900, when Cagni raised the figures to 86 degrees 33 minutes.

"Farthest north" is now 200 miles from the pole. It was attained by Commander Robert E. Peary in his last expedition of 1905-6. Leaving civilization in the Roosevelt, Peary spent three weeks in boring through the narrow ice-swept channel between Greenland and America, only to have his ship driven ashore into winter quarters at Cape Sheridan. In a subsequent sledge trip over the ice, the explorer was cut off from his supporting parties. The final dash, with eight men and six teams of dogs, enabled him to reach 87 degrees 6 minutes, where the condition of the ice and lack of food compelled immediate return.

BRINGING GOLD FROM KLONDIKE.

Estimated That More Than $30,000,000 Will Be Sent to Seattle.

Gold from the candle-lit clefts of placer mines in the Tanana and Nenana districts, from Gold Bar creek in the Klondike and from the thousands of "lays" on winter diggings in the Nome district, dug out by hand and cleaned up at the end of the sluice boxes in the good old-fashioned "sour dough" way, was not brought to Seattle last spring, but is coming by

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF FORM.

WELLS PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Bail Is Fixed at $5,000, But No One Appears to Furnish This Amount
—He May Later Change Plea.

Milwaukee.—Harvey T. Wells, former paying teller of the First National bank of Kenosha, who absconded with $3,200 of the bank's money, appeared before Judge Quarles and entered a plea of not guilty. Bail was fixed at $5,000. It was not furnished, and Wells was led back to his cell in the county jail. Wells entered a plea of not guilty in order to secure temporary freedom in order that he may spend some time with his parents. Later, it is said, he will change his plea to guilty. It was expected that Frank Wells, a cousin of the defendant, and a prosperous business man of Kenosha, would furnish bail. Judge Quarles intimated that in case Wells finds it impossible to secure the $5,000 bond he may lower it. Friends of Wells in Kenosha made a hard fight to raise bonds for him. The health of the prisoner is poor and his relatives were anxious for him to have a chance to recuperate before he was sentenced to prison. It was thought that when the case is called for trial in October, Wells will change his plea and enter a plea of guilty.

DEATH FOLLOWS HIS FAILURE.

John Smith of Depere, Aged Holland Bankrupt, Victim of Apoplexy.

Depere.—The funeral of John Smith was held here. The private banker and real estate dealer who recently filed papers in bankruptcy with liabilities at over $30,000 and assets at about $11,000, suffered stroke of paralysis and later was stricken with apoplexy. John Smith was born in Holland and came to this country in 1869, settling at Depere and residing there all of the time since that year. He was a member of the school board for 25 years and served the city as mayor and an alderman. He was 63 years old. Surviving him are his wife, six sons, two daughters, a brother living in Depere and a sister living in Holland. A number of Hollander are the creditors of the deceased.

$50,000 Fire in Viroqua.

Viroqua.—The tobacco packing house of O. H. Helgeson was destroyed by fire together with nearly 300 cases of 1906 tobacco, one of the finest packings of goods in the state for that year's crop. The loss on the tobacco is about $50,000 carrying insurance of two-thirds to three-fourths value of the packing. A number of other large houses and packings of tobacco were threatened. An adjacent dwelling house belonging to Mr. Helgeson was also burned.

Church Has Anniversary.

Menominie.—The Elk Creek Evangelical church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary, services being conducted by former pastors. The church, which was erected in 1877, has been entirely remodeled and redecorated in white and gold. A fine new altar, pulpit and baptismal font together with a replica of Thorwaldsen's statue of Christ give the interior a rich appearance. The congregation is considered one of the richest in this vicinity.

In Terror of an Italian.

Neenah.—Fearing for her life, if she remained in Neenah, Emma Brown ran away from home. She was located at Collins and brought back by Chief Brown. The girl says she fears an Italian, Dominican Demesthe, who she says, threatened to shoot her if she did not marry him. She was on her way to Manitowoc when apprehended.

Hope for an Assemblyman.

Eau Claire.—Prohibitionists will hold a picnic at Mount Tom at which Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibitionist candidate for president, will speak. W. D. Cox, candidate for governor, will be present. The party members think they have a fighting chance and will make a hard fight in the county this fall. A full ticket will be nominated.

Monument to Carl Jonas.

Racine.—For a number of years Bohemian societies of this city have been making an effort to raise a fund of $5,000 to erect a monument to the late Carl Jonas, Bohemian statesman and leader, who was lieutenant governor and minister to Prague. The amount has now been raised.

Milk Supply Drops.

Monroe.—Green county dairymen have noticed a heavy falling off in the flow of milk as a result of the continued hot, dry weather. Pastures are not only dry and burned, but the flies are so bothersome that the cows are kept busy fighting flies during the daytime instead of feeding.

Little Life Crushed Out.

Superior.—Crushed into insensibility and mangled almost beyond recognition by being run over by a heavy wagon load of lumber. Little Sherman Larson died in his mother's arms. The boy lived less than an hour after the accident.

Hold Annual Meeting.

La Crosse.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Retail Marble and Granite association was held here with a large delegation from Minnesota and Iowa present.

FATIGUED EXPRESSION.

A Slander.

Squaggs—Why did the butcher beat up Longley?

Squaggs—Slander.

Squaggs—What'd Longley say?

Squaggs—Said he saw a dog down in the butcher's licking his chops, and a lot of customers quit before it was explained that the dog was licking his own chops.—Toledo Blade.

Is Peru-na Useful for Catarrh?

Should a list of the ingredients of Peru-na be submitted to any medical expert, of whatever school or nationality, he would be obliged to admit without reserve that the medicinal herbs composing Peru-na are of two kinds. First, standard and well-tried catarrh remedies. Second, well-known and generally acknowledged tonic remedies. That in one or the other of these uses they have stood the test of many years' experience by physicians of different schools. There can be no dispute about this, whatever Peru-na is composed of some of the most efficacious and universally used herbal remedies for catarrhal diseases, and for such conditions of the human system as require a tonic. Each one of the principal ingredients of Peru-na has a reputation of its own in the cure of some phase of catarrh or as a tonic medicine.

The fact is, chronic catarrh is a disease which is very prevalent. Many thousand people know they have chronic catarrh. They have visited doctors over and over again, and been told that their case is one of chronic catarrh. It may be of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach or some other internal organ. There is no doubt as to the nature of the disease. The only trouble is the remedy. This doctor has tried to cure them. That doctor has tried to prescribe for them.

No other household remedy so universally advertised carries upon the label the principal active constituents, showing that Peru-na invites the full inspection of the critics.

SPRINGFIELD'S FIERCE RIOT RESULTS IN SEVEN DEATHS

Terrible Race War Makes Necessary Calling Out of Nearly All of Illinois National Guard and the Troops Repress All Further Outbreaks.

Two Negroes Lynched, Other Persons Killed and Many Wounded--Restaurant Wrecked and "Black Belt" Burned by Mobs Enraged by Removal of Colored Brute from City--Trooper Kills Man on Train at Kankakee and Is Exonerated by Inquiry Court.

Springfield, Ill.—Two deaths on Sunday from injuries received in previous mob fights brought up to seven the list of violent deaths during the terrible race war that raged in Springfield Friday night and Saturday.

William Donnigan, the aged colored man whose throat was cut Saturday night, expired at 11 a.m. Frank Delmore, who was shot through the lungs on Friday night, passed away an hour later.

Troops There Number 4,200.

With the arrival here Sunday of the Second and Seventh Infantry regiments, I. N. G., and two squadrons of the First cavalry, all from Chicago, the entire National Guard of Illinois, with the exception of the Sixth Infantry and the Eighth Infantry (colored) was on duty in the riot-torn districts Sunday night. In all, 4,200 guardsmen are in the city.

A council of war was held at the capitol at four o'clock in the afternoon by Gov. Deneen, Adj't. Gen. Scott, Gen. F. P. Wells and Col. H. B. Sanborn. At the meeting a plan was adopted which it is believed will render further demonstrations improbable. Col. Sanborn was given command of a provisional brigade consisting of the First and Second Infantry regiments, with instructions to preserve the peace in territory west of Seventh street. The two regiments established headquarters on the capitol grounds, their shelter tents bordering the state house on three sides. Gen. Wells was placed in command of a second provisional brigade consisting of companies of the Third infantry, three companies of the Fourth infantry, three companies of the Fifth infantry.

Private Klein Exonerated.

Private J. B. Klein, Company A, First Infantry, killed a young man named Earl Nelson at Kankakee, and his case was considered Sunday by a regimental court of inquiry, which reported to Adj't. Gen. Scott that Klein's act was performed in the strict line of duty.

Klein had been placed as one of a guard of the baggage car on the first section of the Illinois Central train which brought the First infantry to Springfield Saturday. The train was a special one and the baggage car contained property owned by the state. Klein, guarding the front door, was instructed by Lieut. Guilford to allow no one, not officially countenanced, to enter the car. At Kankakee four young men, according to the report, climbed to the front platform and attempted to enter the car. Klein barred the way, using the only weapon available, a bayonet. As the train started the four youths left the platform. Klein was not aware that Nelson or any one had been injured. State's Attorney Cooper of Kankakee probably will institute action against Klein in the criminal court at Kankakee. The attorney general of the state is compelled by law to defend national guardsmen in such case.

Following is a list of the dead:

The Dead.

William Donnigan, negro, 60 years old, lynched by mob; unidentified white man, killed by negro.

Scott Burton, 65 years old, negro, lynched by mob.

John Caldwell, shot in stomach by militia.

James Scott, 10 years old, shot during rioting.

Frank Delmore, white, shot in left side with rifle; employed at Windsor hotel.

Louis Johnson, 17 years old, shot during rioting.

Night of Wild Riot.

From the early attack of the mob on the Loper restaurant in the business district of the city Friday night, there developed rapidly as the morning wore on the most vicious race war that Illinois has ever experienced.

The red torch of anarchy was carried through the disreputable districts and applied to the homes of the negroes, good and bad, without discrimination.

The night was made hideous with the volleys of gun fire by reckless men and the demoniacal screams and shouts of drunken men athirst for blood and destruction.

The sum total of the night's work was the destruction of the Loper restaurant, the complete ruin of 25 or 30 small places of business on East Washington street and the burning of

The Wants of the Army.

The duke of Connaught is telling an amusing story of his recent visit of inspection to Egypt. While he was in Cairo he went for a stroll one morning, and on his way back to his quarters he came face to face with an old Englishman wearing the ribbon of the Indian mutiny on his breast. The duke stopped and spoke to the man about his military service for some little time.

Presently the man said, not knowing of course to whom he was speaking:

Are you in the army yourself, then sir?

The duke smiled and admitted that he was.

"Getting on all right?" was the next question.

The duke smiled again and said that he had not very much to grumble at on the whole, though perhaps he was not doing quite so well as he could wish.

"No, and you never will, my boy," was the surprising retort of the veteran.

"What you want in the army to-day is either brains or a tremendous amount of influence behind you. You take my tip, old chap, and chuck it!"—Boston Herald.

Untouched by Civilization.

Recently MM. Lambois and Duguet have discovered two tribes not far from Tepic, a city of 20,000 inhabitants in Mexico. They are known as the Coras and the Huichols, and appear hitherto to have been unknown to the outer world. They have preserved their ancient manners and customs as if Hernando Cortez and the Spaniards had never placed foot in the country.

Presently the man said, not knowing of course to whom he was speaking:

What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulence. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

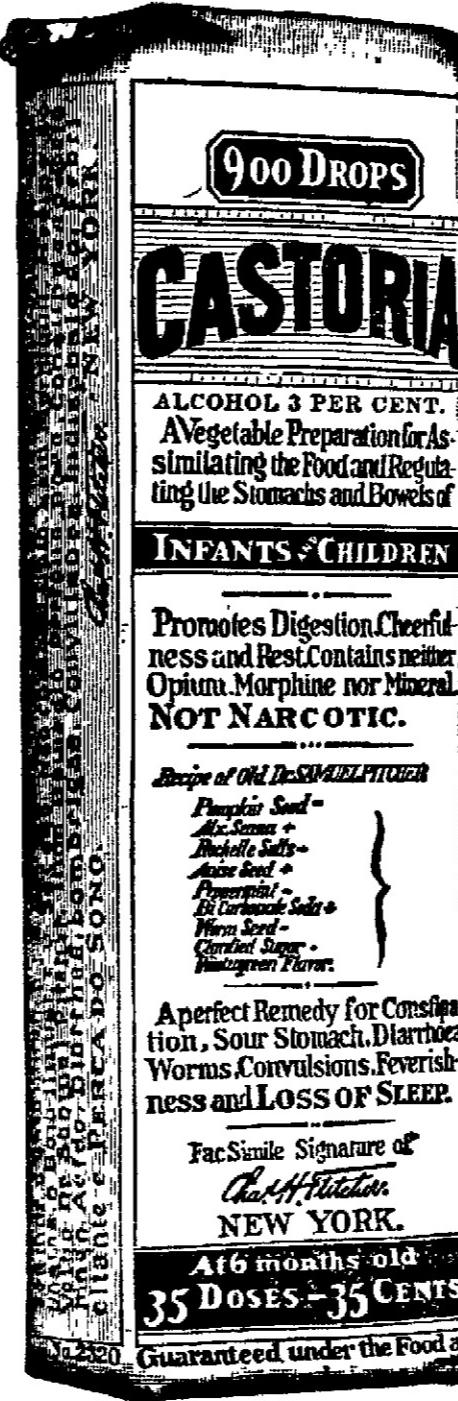

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

BABY CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time—Covered with Torturing Eczema—Doctor Said Sores Would Last for Years—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby niece was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he seemed to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But if I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from the want of aid. But I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and she was cured in three months. Alice L. SYNOPSIS.

Giles Dudley arrived in San Francisco to join his friend and distant relative Henry Wilton, whom he was to assist in an important and mysterious task, and who accompanied Dudley on the ferry boat trip into the city. The remarkable resemblance of the two men is noted and commented upon by passengers on the ferry. They see a man with snake eyes, which sends them all through Dudley. Wilton postpones an explanation of the strange task Dudley is to perform until his experiences cause him to know it is one of no ordinary meaning. Wilton leaves Giles in their room, with instruction to await his return. Hardly has he gone than Giles is startled by a cry of "Help." Dudley is summoned to the morgue and there finds the dead body of his friend, Henry Wilton. And thus Wilton dies without ever explaining the difficult puzzling work he was to perform in San Francisco. In order to discover the secret mission his friend had entrusted to him, Dudley continues his disguise and permits himself to be known as Henry Wilton. Dudley, mistaking Wilton, is employed by Knapp to assist in a stock broker's office. A room with three Porters who makes a confidant of him. He can learn nothing about the mysterious boy further than that it is Tim Terrill and Darby McEker who are after him. He is told that "Dicky" Nahel is a traitor playing both hands in the game. Dudley gets his first knowledge of Decker, who is Knapp's enemy in the Board. Dudley is soon made aware that Knapp is stricken by the beauty of Luella, his daughter. He is provided with four guards, Brown, Backhouse, Fitzhugh and Porter. He learns there is to be no trouble about money as all expenses will be paid, the hire of the guards being paid by one "Richmond." The body of Henry Wilton is committed to the vault. Dudley responds to a note from his mother, Portia, in company with Policeman Corson. Giles Dudley again visits the Knapp home. He is fascinated by Luella and is bored by Mrs. Bowser. Slumming tour through Chinatown is planned. The trip to Chinatown, Giles Dudley learns that the party is being shadowed by Terrill. Luella is dumbfounded when she and Dudley see her father going out from an opium den. Luella and Dudley are cut off from the rest of the party and imprisoned in a hallway behind an iron-bound door. Three Chinese ruffians approach the imprisoned couple. A battle ensues. One is knocked down. Giles begins firing. Tim Terrill is seen in the mob. A newly formed mob is checked by shots from Giles' revolver. Policemen break down the door with an ax and the couple is rescued. Luella thanks Giles Dudley for saving her life. Doddridge appears at the office with no traces of the previous night's debauch.

At this Eppner gave a blast like a cornet, and waving his arms frantically plunged into a small-sized riot. I had entrusted him with 5,000 shares of Crown and Diamond to be sold for the best price possible, and he was feeding the opposition judiciously. The price wavered for a moment, but rallied and reached 66.

At this I signaled to Wallbridge, and with another bellow he started an opposition riot on the other side of the room from Eppner, and fed Crown Diamond in lumps to the howling forces of the Decker combination. The battle was raging furiously.

There was a final rally of the Decker forces, and the call closed with Crown Diamond at 63. I had sold 12,000 shares.

I was pleased at the result. Doddridge Knapp had intrusted me with the shares with the remark: "I paid 50 for 'em and they're not worth a tinker's dam. I got an inside look at the mine when I was in Virginia City. Feed Decker all he'll take at 60. He's been fooled on the thing, and I reckon he'll buy a good lot of them at that."

I had sold Doddridge Knapp's entire lot of the stock at an average of over 65, had netted him a profit of $15 a share, and had, for a second purpose, served the plan of campaign by drawing the enemy's resources to the defense of Crown Diamond and weakening by so much his power of operating elsewhere.

By the time Omega was reached I had the plans full in hand.

The assault on Crown diamond had caused a nervous feeling all along the line, and under rumors of a bear raid there had been a drop of several points.

Omega felt the result of the nervousness and depression, and opened at 75.

There was a moment's buzz—the quiet of a crowd expectant of great events. Then Wallbridge charged into the throng with a roar. I could not distinguish his words, but I knew that he was carrying out my order to drop 5,000 shares on the market.

At his cry there was an answering roar, and the scene upon the floor turned to a riot. How the market was going I could only guess. At Wallbridge's onset I saw Lattimer and Eppner make a dive for him and then separate, following other shouting screaming madmen who piroueted about the floor and tried to save themselves from a mobbing. I heard 70 shouted from one direction, but could not make out whether it set the price of the stock or not. The dia was too confusing for me to follow the course of events.

At last Wallbridge staggered up to the rail flushed, colliquate, and panting for breath, with his hat a hopeless wreck.

I laid down 125—averaging 72. I guess—and still sailing in fit to break the 70—“I passed.”

“I did not and you’ve got your stock,” I said to him, “and I’m glad to get some of it. Rosen-

“Where is it now?” I asked.

“Sixty-nine and a half.” I meditated an instant whether to use my authority to throw another 5,000 shares on the market. But I caught sight of Decker opposite, pale, hawk-like, just seizing an envelope from a messenger. He tore it open, and though his face changed not a line, I felt by a mysterious instinct that it brought assurance of the aid he sought.

“Buy every share you can get,” I said promptly. “Don’t get in the way of Lattimer or Eppner. Put on steam, too.”

A moment later the clamor grew louder and the excitement increased. I heard shouts of 75, 78, 80 and 85. Decker’s men had entered into the bidding with energy. The shrews of war had been recruited, and it was a battle for the possession of every block of stock.

Thus far I had followed closely the plan laid down for me by Doddridge Knapp, and the course of the market had agreed with the outlines of his prophecy. But now it was going up faster than he had expected. Yet I could do nothing but buy. I dared not set bounds to the bidding. I could only grip the railing and wait for the end of the call.

At last it came, and “Omega, one hundred and five and three-quarters” was the closing quotation. I feverishly took the totals of my purchases from the brokers and gave the checks to bind them. Then I hastily made my way through the excited throngs that blocked the entrance to the Exchange, brought thither by the exciting news of “a boom in Omega,” and hurried to the office.

Doddridge Knapp had not yet come, and I consumed myself with impatience for ten minutes till I heard his key in the lock and he entered with a calm smile on his face.

I gave him my memoranda and tried to read his face as he studied them.

“You did a good job with Crown Diamond,” he grunted approvingly.

“Thanks,” I returned. “I thought it wasn’t bad for a stock that was not worth mentioning. And here is 7,600 shares of Omega bought and 5,000 sold. That scheme worked pretty well. We made 2,600 by it. Um—the price went up pretty fast.

The King of the Street looked sourly at the figures before him. “You ought to have got more stock,” he growled.

This was a shock to my self-congratulation over my success, and I saw an inquiring “Yes?”

“As I figure it out,” he said, “somebody else got 7,000 shares and odd. There were over 15,000 shares sold in your boat.”

I murmured that I had done my best.

“Yes, yes; I suppose so,” said my employer. “But we need more.”

“How much?” I asked.

“I’ve got a little over 45,000 shares,” he said slowly. “And I must have near 60,000. It looks as though I’d have to fight for them.”

“Well, Decker isn’t any better off than you,” I said consolingly.

“He’s ten or fifteen thousand shares worse off than I am.”

“And he’s put a fortune into Crown Diamond, and is pretty well loaded with Confidence.”

“True, my boy.”

“And so,” I argued, “he must be nearer the bottom of his sack than you are.”

“Very good, Wilton,” said the King of the Street with a quizzical look. “But you’ve left one thing out. You don’t happen to know that the directors of the El Dorado Bank had a secret meeting last night and decided to back Decker for all they are worth.”

“Rather a rash proceeding,” I suggested.

“Well, he had three millions of their money in his scheme, so I reckon they thought the tail might as well follow the hide,” explained my employer.

“The only thing to do then is to get a bank yourself,” I returned.

Doddridge Knapp’s lips closed, and a trace of a frown was on his brows.

“Well, this isn’t business,” he said. “Now here is what I want,” he continued. And he gave directions for the buying at the afternoon session.

“Now, not over 125,” was his parting injunction. “You may not get much—I don’t think you will—though I have a scheme that may bring a reaction.”

Doddridge Knapp’s scheme for a reaction must have been one of the kind that goes off backward, for Omega jumped skyward on the afternoon call, and closed at 130. And I had been able to get a scant 1,500 shares when the call was over.

“I did better than you,” said Doddridge Knapp, when I explained to him the course of the session. “I found a nest of 2,500 and gathered them in at 120. But that’s all right. You’ve done well enough—as well as I expected.”

“And still 8,000 to get,” I said.

“Nearly.”

“Well, we’ll get them in due time, I suppose,” I said cheerfully.

“We’ll have ‘em by Monday noon, though I wished that she had delayed her appearance, and looked regretfully after Luella.

“I want to thank you for your heroism the other evening,” she said.

“Oh, it was nothing,” I answered lightly. “Any one would have done the same.”

“Perhaps—but none the less we are all very grateful. If I had only suspected that anything of the kind could have happened, I should never have allowed them to go.”

I felt rebelliously glad that she had not suspected.

“I blame myself for it all,” I bowed. “It was very careless of me.”

“I’m afraid so, after all the warning you have had,” said Mrs. Knapp.

“But as it turned out, no harm was done,” I said cheerfully.

“I suppose so,” said Mrs. Knapp absently. Then she spoke with sudden attention. “Do you think your enemies followed you there?”

I was taken aback with the vision of the Wolf figure in the grimy passage, a fiend in the intoxication of opium, and stammered for a reply.

“My snake-eyed friend made himself a little familiar, I’m afraid,” I admitted.

“It is dreadful that these dangers should follow you everywhere,” said Mrs. Knapp with feeling. “You must be careful.”

“I have developed eyes in the back of my head,” I said, smiling at her concern.

“I fear you need more than that. Now tell me how it all happened, just as you saw it. I’m afraid Luella was a little too hysterical to give a true account of it.”

I gave her the story of the scene in the passage, with a few judicious emendations. I thought it hardly worth while to mention Doddridge Knapp’s appearance, or a few other items that were more precious to me than to anybody else.

When I had done Mrs. Knapp sighed.

“There must be an end of this some day,” she said.

“I hope the day isn’t far off,” I confessed, “unless it should happen to be the day the coroner is called on to take a particular interest in my person.”

Mrs. Knapp shuddered.

“Oh no, no—not that way.”

Then after a pause, she continued: “Would you not rather attack your dangers at once, and have them over, than to wait for them to seek you?”

I felt a trifle uneasy at this speech. There seemed to be a suggestion in it that I could end the whole matter by marching on my enemies and coming to decisive battle. I wished I knew what she was hinting at and how it was to be done before I answered.

“I haven’t felt any particular disposition to hunt them up,” I confessed, “but if I could cut off all the heads of the hydra at once it would be worth while. Anything for peace and quiet, you know.”

Mrs. Knapp smiled.

“Well, there is no use challenging your fate. There is no need for you to act, unless the boy is in danger.”

“Oh, no, none at all,” I replied unblushingly.

“And we’ll hope that he will be kept safe until the danger has passed.”

I hoped so devoutly, and said as much. After a few more words I took advantage of the lull to excuse myself and make a dive into the next room where I espied Luella.

“Yes, you may sit down here,” she said carelessly. “I want to be amused.”

I was not at all certain that I was flattered to be considered amusing; but I was willing to stay on any terms, so we fell into animated conversation on nothing and everything. In the midst of this entertaining situation I discovered that Mrs. Knapp was watching us, and her face showed no easy state of mind. As I caught her eye she moved away, and a minute later Mr. Carter appeared with,— “Excuse me, Miss Knapp, but your mother would like to see you. She and my wife have some conspiracy on hand.”

I was pleased to see that Luella did not take the interruption gratefully, but she surrendered her place to Mr. Carter, who talked about the weather with a fertility of commonplace that excited my admiration. But as even the weather has its limits as a subject of interest and the hour grew late I suppressed a yawn and sought the ladies to take my leave.

“Oh, must you go?” said Luella, rising. And leaving Mrs. Carter to her mother, she walked with me to the hall as though she would speak with me.

But once more alone, with only the hum of voices from the reception-room as company, she fell silent, and I could think of nothing to say.

“It’s very good of you to come,” she said hesitatingly.

My mind went back to that other evening when I had left the door in humiliation and bitterness of spirit. Perhaps she, too, was thinking of the time.

Lost in the Telephone.

Henry Abraham has calculated the maximum effectiveness of the telephone for a sound of given pitch and a current of measured intensity. The result shows that there is great room for improvement in this respect. Notwithstanding the apparent extreme sensitiveness of the best telephones, they are, after all, surprisingly ineffective, since they transmit to the ear in the form of sound-waves less than a thousandth part of the energy received from the line.

Little One Had But One Idea of Term
"Fore-Handed."

Little Catherine has been boarding on a farm this summer, and many of the rural expressions are wholly unfamiliar to her. One day she chanced to hear her country hostess praising the good qualities of a certain thrifty neighbor.

“He really ain’t got much, compared to some folks,” said the farmer’s wife, “but he makes out wonderful well; he’s so fore-handed.”

That evening the man thus lauded happened to drop in, and Katherine immediately sidled up to him, with curious eyes. Slowly she revolved about the chair in which he sat, and so persistently did she gaze at him that the farmer’s wife finally noticed it.

“Well, Katherine,” she said, “you seem to find a good deal to look at in Mr. B—; don’t you?”

“Why,” replied the child, her forehead wrinkled in perplexity. “I did want to see his two uvver hands, but I can’t see he is sittin’ on ‘em?”

Government Land Opening.

The government opening of a million acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands will probably occur about Oct. 1st.
